DEPARTMENT OF FISH AND GAME
2011 SISKIYOU ROOSEVELT ELK HUNT
www.dfg.ca.gov

General Information: Congratulations on being drawn for the Siskiyou Elk Hunt! Portions of the hunt area are heavily forested, steep, and rugged. Much of the area is comprised of private land, a great deal of which is agricultural. Elk do not occur throughout the entire area so gathering the information in advance of your hunt will be useful. Please be aware that although elk can occur on public land within the hunt area, in most years, the majority of the elk occupy private land where hunting is prohibited or landowners charge a fee for access. We have prepared the following information to help you have a successful hunting experience.

Some of the elk within the hunt area have been fitted with radio collars. The data we are gathering is critical to the management of this herd. In the event that you harvest a collared animal, please contact Mr. Bob Schaefer at (530) 598-6820 immediately so that we can make arrangements to obtain the collar. In order to prevent the loss of data it is important that we are contacted as soon as possible.

The Department is collecting teeth from animals taken by hunters for age analysis. Successful hunters should follow directions on the tooth envelope (included with this flyer) to remove the two front teeth (and only the two front teeth, please do not send in sections of the jaw) and submit them to the Department. Please do not wrap teeth in plastic or foil. The Department will post the age analysis results at <http://www.dfg.ca.gov/wildlife/hunting/elk> for hunters that submit teeth from their hunt. The age of your animal can be found by using your hunting license number (from the 2011-2012 license year). Please note that these results may not be available until December of the following year.

All hunters should read and be familiar with regulations contained in the current Hunting Regulations for Mammals and Furbearers. Visit the above website address for specific zone regulations (hunt zone map, description, and harvest success information can also be viewed at this address). Section 364 (a) describes the Siskiyou Roosevelt Elk hunt area and hunting season. Some of the elk within the hunt area occur on public lands, however, animals are often found on private property. Remember you must obtain written permission to hunt on private property and hunter trespass laws are strictly enforced.

Public Land: Most public land within the hunt area is administered by the Klamath National Forest. The primary access into the hunt area is Interstate Highway 5 and Highway 97. Many county and National Forest roads provide good access to public lands. Please be aware that some national forest roads may be closed to vehicle access during the hunting season to protect natural resources or because they are impassible. Generally, these areas are open to hunting provided access is made by non-motorized vehicle.

Maps: USFS maps are available locally at most USFS offices; by contacting the USFS Pacific Southwest Regional Office at: 1323 Club Drive, Vallejo, CA 94592 (707-562-8737); or ordered by phone (406-329-3024), fax (406-329-3030), mail at USDA Forest Service, National Forest Store, P.O. Box 8268, Missoula, MT 59807, or on-line at <http://www.nationalforeststore.com/>. Forest maps are available for a fee and provide general information regarding the location of public lands and roads within the hunt area. District transportation maps are also available for a fee. These maps depict many roads not identified on the general National Forest map. The Goosenest district transportation maps will likely be the most useful to you.

Weather: Weather in this region is highly variable. It may be quite warm but early storms are common. Snow during your hunting season would be unusual but heavy rains can occur making some roads impassable. You should be prepared with appropriate clothing and equipment for a variety of weather conditions. There is a potential for fire due to the high fuel loading and lightning events that occur in this zone. Check with the US Forest Service for the most up to date news on closures at www.fs.fed.us. Be aware that tags or refunds will not be reissued due to fire closures.

Camping: Camping is available at National forest campgrounds and is usually permitted at undesignated sites on the forest. Please refer to the Klamath National Forest map for the locations of designated campgrounds or contact the Klamath National Forest for further information.

Care of Meat: Conditions during the elk hunting season can be quite warm. The weather and the steep, rugged terrain within the hunt area make it critical you are prepared to properly care for the meat if you harvest an animal. You should be prepared to skin and quarter or de-bone your elk immediately after it is tagged. The meat should be hung in flyproof breathable sacks in the shade until you pack it out. If you are hunting by yourself, you will need, at minimum, four game sacks, plenty of rope, a game hoist, a knife, a knife sharpener, and a pack frame. A meat saw or hatchet and a tarp would also likely be helpful. Black bear are present within the hunt area so caution is warranted if meat is left unattended.

Outfitters and Guides: Outfitters and guides offer a variety of services for elk hunters interested in hunting in wilderness areas. Many have limited space so be sure to contact them as soon as possible to reserve their services. A list of outfitters and guides permitted by the US Forest Service within the hunt area is available from the US Forest Service. It is your responsibility to verify any guides you retain have a current guide license issued by the Department of Fish and Game. If you plan to hunt on the US Forest Service property your guides will also need to be permitted with the US Forest Service. Failure to verify the proper licenses required may result in a citation to both the hunter and guide. A list of licensed guides can be obtained online (<http://www.dfg.ca.gov/licensing/hunting/>). Scroll down to the Related Information section and select Big Game Guide List.

Additional Information: If you have any questions regarding this hunt, please contact Mr. Bob Schaefer at (530) 459-3164.

Again, congratulations and we hope you have an enjoyable hunt.
